STINGING SNUB TO CASTELLANE BY DEPUTIES IN THE FRENCH PARLIAMENT

WATCH KEPT
ON GILLETTE
TO PREVENT HIS SUICIDE

Prisoner Is Sullen as Alleged Confession Is Made Public.

STRUCK GIRL IN LAKE.

So He Is Said to Have Told Counsel, and Sheriff and Turnkey Overheard Him.

HERKIMER, Dec. 6.—Chester Gillette, the convicted slayer of Grace Brown, is today closely guarded to prevent any possibility of suicide. He is no longer cheerful, but is sullen and gloomy. The change is due to the knowledge that a confession he is alleged to have made to his counsel, that he struck Grace Brown over the head while she struggled in the water, has been made public.

Sheriff Richards and Turnkey Evans overheard the confession, but as it was a confidential communication by client to attorney the fact could not be brought out on the trial.

The noticeable coolness which suddenly sprang up a week ago Monday, between Gillette and his attorneys, Ex-Senator Mills and Lawyer Charles D. Thomas, is explained by the prisoner's admission. It was of such character as to render friendship between client and defenders absolutely impossible, for it was an admission that Gillette had been lying all the time to his lawyers as to the manner of death Grace Brown met. It was seemingly a slip of the young man's tongue, for when his lawyers asked him to again go over the facts of the alleged suicide of the factory girl, Gillette said:

Angered His Defender.

"When she came up the first time after sinking in the water I struck her."

"You coward!" ex-Senator Mills exclaimed, says the story going here today. "Why didn't you tell me this before?"

Sheriff Richards and Turnkey Evans are said to have overheard this conversation, and next morning in court when the lawyers sat far away from the young man they were trying to save from the death chair, the two defenders knew the reason. District Attorney Ward was informed of Gillette's admission, but dared not use the testimony of the sheriff, fearing that it would turn out to be a lie.

The prosecutor, however, made a bold attempt to bring out the fact that was on the witness stand, by suddenly asking him, "Did you not confess last night that you struck Grace Brown when she came up beside the boat?"

But the significance of the question was for a time forgotten.

Sentence Is Delayed.

Gillette was brought to court today at 10:30 o'clock by Under Sheriff Klock. His eyes were bright and his step was light, and his hands swung freely at his sides. The session lasted about five minutes. As soon as the court was called to order Mr. Thomas of counsel for the defense, arose and asked that the sentence be postponed until Monday at 10 o'clock.

Gillette arose from his chair and made a bold attempt to bring out the fact that was on the witness stand, by suddenly asking him, "Did you not confess last night that you struck Grace Brown when she came up beside the boat?"

But the significance of the question was for a time forgotten.

$32,500 FOR 'CHANGE SEAT.

ROCKEFELLER SMILED AT SUBPOENA IN OIL SUIT

Marshal Henckel Serves Subpoenas on Him and Other Trust Officials Wanted in St. Louis Trial.

A despatch from St. Louis to-day says: John D. Rockefeller and other directors of the Standard Oil Company have been subpoenaed to appear there in the suit to dissolve the Standard Oil.

United States Marshal William Henckel served Mr. Rockefeller personally at his home, at No. 5 West Fifty-fourth street. He says the Oil King received him smilingly and accepted the service. Among the others who will have to appear in St. Louis are: H. H. Rogers, individually and as a director of the company; W. A. Harris, as treasurer of the Crescent Pipe Line Company, of the National Transit Company and other subsidiary concerns; John D. Archbold, individually; S. A. Drew, as secretary and treasurer of the Chesapeake Manufacturing Company; J. C. Peabody, as vice-president and treasurer of Swan & Finch Company; Charles M. Pratt, individually and as a director of the Standard Oil; Henry M. Flagler, individually; Oliver H. Payne, individually, and William Rockefeller, individually.

SAYS NORMA MUNRO HAS FLED TO DODGE CREDITORS

Mrs. Leslie Carter-Payne Gets Attachment on Property of Her Once Dearest Chum on a $42,000 Claim.

Mrs. Louise Carter-Payne, best known as Mrs. Leslie Carter, the actress, today secured a writ of attachment against the property of her former chum, Miss Norma Munro. The sum she sued out the writ to secure was $42,000.

The papers were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Michael Creuse to serve on the daughter of the late publisher, Norman Munro. This is the first legal action growing out of the quarrels and accusations of the actress and her friend following Mrs. Carter's marriage to actor Lou Payne.

In her application for the attachment Mrs. Payne says she has reason to believe Miss Munro has left the country with the intention of defrauding her creditors. Her affidavit recites that Mrs. Carter-Payne has been trying for months to find Miss Munro for the purpose of securing an adjustment of her claim, that she has left her home here and Mrs. Payne is informed and believes that she sailed for Europe on Oct. 16 last under an assumed name and is now in Paris.

Roberta Osborn, until recently known as "Mrs. Bob" who found one of a trio of friends with Mrs. Carter-Payne and Miss Munro, also makes an affidavit in aid of Mrs. Carter-Payne in which she says that the Mrs. Osborn Company got a judgment against Miss Munro's estate for $42,000, which was to be settled by Oct. 1, but is still unpaid.

She says she got out an execution, but the Sheriff couldn't find Miss Munro, and she wrote to Morris Francis, who lives in Paris, who knows Miss Munro well, and he called back (collect) that the missing one was there.

INSPECTOR M'CLUSKY
BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

With Several Police Captains in His District He Is Examined This Afternoon During Graft Inquiry.

Inspector George McClusky, of the Second Inspection District, Capt. Daly, of the Elizabeth street, and O'Reilly, of the Mercer street stations, and Acting Capt. Nugent, of the Church street station, were called before the Grand Jury in the pool-room graft investigation this afternoon.

The captains are all in McClusky's district. They and McClusky were asked why, although they had certified to serving fifty subpoenas on poolroom proprietors and owners of property leased for poolroom purposes last night, only twenty-five of the persons subpoenaed appeared at the Criminal Courts Building today. It is understood that Inspector McClusky's examination was quite searching.

In all about thirty witnesses were heard by the Grand Jury to-day in two grand matters. Some of these were owners of properties occupied by poolrooms and gambling houses. They were warned to be more careful about renting their places. Policeman Lynch, of McClusky's private staff, was recalled and questioned at length.

Unless the District Attorney is bluffing, the name of the man back of the pool-room protection scheme must be made public before many hours have lapsed out. It is known that witnesses have been asked if they knew a prominent young officeholder under, and personal friend of, Mayor McClellan, whose rise in politics has been phenomenal. This young man has many sincere friends, who assert that suspicion against him is unwarranted and maliciously inspired.

Asked if They Know "Big Tim."

The witnesses were also asked if they knew "Big Tim" Sullivan, who is now on the Pacific Coast looking over
